

ADOPTER AMENDMENT FOR GVIF EXTENSIONS

The Digital Content Protection, L.L.C. (“Licensor”) is the authorized licensor of that certain proprietary technology for high-bandwidth digital content protection for the purposes of enabling a protected, interoperable video connection between certain digital devices and digital display monitors to allow display of such content while inhibiting copying (“HDCP”). Licensor and the Adopter identified on the signature page below (“Adopter”) have entered into an HDCP License Agreement (the “HDCP License Agreement”) pursuant to which Licensor granted certain licenses to Adopter to enable Adopter to create and distribute certain devices that integrate all or part of the HDCP specification. Licensor and Adopter now desire to modify and extend the terms of the HDCP License Agreement in accordance with the terms and conditions set forth below.

AGREEMENT

In consideration of the covenants and agreements herein, each of Licensor and Adopter hereby agrees as follows:

1. This Adopter Amendment for GVIF Extensions modifies the terms and conditions of the HDCP License Agreement. All capitalized terms not otherwise defined in this letter shall have the meanings given them in the HDCP License Agreement.
2. The HDCP License Agreement is hereby revised as follows:
 - A. A new definition 1.27a is added to read as follows:

“GVIF Extensions to HDCP” means the specification entitled “Gigabit Video InterFace (GVIF) Extensions to HDCP Content Protection Specification, Release 1.1” (including the “Errata” thereto), as such specification may be amended from time to time pursuant to Section 5.
 - B. Definition 1.32 is revised to read as follows:

“HDCP Specification” means the specification entitled “HDCP Content Protection Specification, Release 1.1” (including the “Errata” thereto), as well as the GVIF Extensions to HDCP, as any of such specifications may be amended from time to time pursuant to Section 5.
3. Except as set forth herein, the terms and conditions of the HDCP License Agreement shall remain unchanged and in full force and effect.
